ON THE LEDGE WINS TWO AWARDS IN I-PLANTS MAGAZINE'S INTERNATIONAL DESIGN CONTEST

The Woodlands, Texas, June 16, 2015

Johnson Fediw Associates, publisher of I-Plants Magazine, announced the winners of its International Design Contest today. On the Ledge Landscaping in the Chicago area won two awards: First Place in the Exterior Landscaping category for their project for a private residence; and First Place in the Freestanding Containers category for their project at Cleverbridge.

Entries were judged by a panel of 3 experts--a landscape designer, a special events designer and an interior plantscape designer. Entries were judged on the uniqueness and innovation of their design; innovative use of materials; and the appropriateness and satisfaction of the client.

"Both of these projects are unique in their design and were created to meet the specific needs of their clients. This team really thought outside the box to bring their clients and their visitors something truly special," says Kathy Fediw, LEED AP ID+C, publisher of I-Plants Magazine. "These innovative projects are an inspiration to others in the design industry and really showcase what can be done. We are very proud to recognize their talents and know that they are bringing fresh and innovative design to their clients and their community."
